

You Are the Key... to Helping the City Understand the Housing Needs of Austin's Residents!

Austin's Neighborhood Housing and Community Development Office is completing a city-wide housing market analysis to determine how to achieve more affordable housing in the City. The study is being completed by BBC Research & Consulting (BBC) of Denver.

As part of the study, the City of Austin is asking residents to complete a 10-minute survey about their housing situation and the needs in Austin's neighborhoods. To access the survey, go to www.CityofAustinHousingSurvey.com/English. Your response will be confidential.

Questions about the survey?

Email Heidi Aggeler, the study's Project Manager, at aggeler@bbcresearch.com.

Thank you for taking the time to participate in this very important effort!